China's National Health Commission stops publishing daily COVID information

Updated: Dec 26, 2022 Xinhua

BEIJING -- China's National Health Commission (NHC) has stopped publishing daily epidemic information starting from Sunday, and relevant epidemic information will be released by the Chinese Center for Disease Control and Prevention for reference and research, according to a notice on the NHC website.

NEWS

China unveils five-year plan to improve medical security

China steps up nationwide fitness campaign to promote public health

China targets robust TCM services by 2030

China launches action plan for expanded TCM care

SPECIALS

China makes headway in disability prevention

In numbers: China's progress in childcare

LEAVE YOUR MESSAGE

Please leave a message...

*Your E-mail Address

SUBMIT

Copyright©2026 China Daily. All rights reserved.
京ICP备13028878号-6
京公网安备 11010502032503号